

SOVEREIGN ORDER OF ST. JOHN OF JERUSALEM
KNIGHTS OF MALTA
FEDERATION OF THE AUTONOMOUS PRIORIES

Ministry of Health and Hospitaller Affairs

Whilst these and other measures are important, we must also keep in mind what our Grand Master has pointed out. We are overwhelmed, because a disease has hit our countries. But every year many more die of infectious diseases, such as malaria. So, while keeping things in perspective, I trust our Knights and Dames can further disseminate this information through their available national and international channels.

H.E. Prof. Dr. Sir Pierre Mallia, KM, MD PhD
Minister of Health and Hospitaller Affairs

MPhil MA(law) Dip(Therapeutics)ICGP CBiol FRCGP FRCP

Professor of Family Medicine and Patients' Rights

Chairman, National Bioethics Committee, Malta

Chairman, Health Ethics Committee, Dept. of Health, Malta

Member of Bureau of the Committee of Bioethics (DH-BIO), Council of Europe

N.B.: For those interested hereby I am sending the link of an article I had prepared for Disaster Bioethics, as part of a European COST project on Disaster Bioethics, which was concluded about three years back.

I am trying to get Springer-Nature to release this article without fee, however at the moment it can only be downloaded for a small amount. Those, who form part of universities have Google Scholar from where it can be downloaded through universities without charge.

This is the PubMed link:

Towards an ethical theory in disaster situations.

<https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pubmed/25028162>

Mallia P.

Med Health Care Philos. 2015 Feb;18(1):3-11. doi: 10.1007/s11019-014-9584-7.

PMID: 25028162